Church re-opens for funeral

A native of Pool, Mrs. Johns had lived at Pool all her life apart for short time when she lived at Radnor. Her husband Mr. J. A. Johns died two years ago.

Mrs. Johns was the daughter of the late Mr. Martin Andrew, who was the oldest trustee of St. Martin's Methodist Church and could recall Billy Bray preaching in the church before seats were installed.

The minister paid tribute to her lifelong service to the church, in which she held every office.

Mrs. Johns was also president of Cornwall and Camborne branches of the British Women's Total Abstinence Union. She leaves two sons, Albert and Cyril, and a sister, Florence.

Family mourners—Messrs. and Mesdames W. A. Johns, C. M. Johns, sons and daughters-in-law; Miss S. Johns, granddaughter; Mrs. F. Rogers, sister; Messrs. and Mesdames L. George, J. Punton, R. Boddilly, R. Mears, J. Davey, S. Snell, P. Moyle, Mr. R. Symons, nephews and nieces; Mesdames M. Pemberthy, M. Morris, M. Pellowe, Mr. J. Pemberthy, cousins.

Funeral directors—W. J. Thomas & Son, Redruth.

Mrs H Johns Pool

A STAUNCH Methodist at Pool, Mrs. Henrietta Johns (81), of 9, Station-road, has died. She was a life-long member and worker at St. Martin's Church.

The church was built by some of her forebears. She held most offices in the Sunday school and church. She died a few days after the church was merged with neighbouring Pool Wesley Church.

For some years she was president of Camborne and Cornwall branches of the British Women's Total Abstinence Union. She was a founder member of Pool Methodist Women's Bright Hour and a former president.

Mrs. Johns was the widow of Mr. Joseph Andrew Johns. They celebrated their golden wedding in 1967. Mrs. Johns leaves two sons, Albert and Cyril.

The Rev. J. A. D. Ridholls conducted the funeral service at St. Martin's Church. Mr. W. F. Sandry was the organist.
